UNIVERSITY WILL GATHER WAR HISTORY MATERIAL

Berkeley—Plans for the systematic gathering and preservation of all war materials, especially those relating to California, were announced today by President Robert Gordon Sproul of the University of California.

Of especial importance will be the assembling of the records of all Californians who participated actively in the war, whether with the Army, the Navy, Air Service or civilian defense. Complete data will be gathered so that in future years it will be possible to ascertain essential facts relative to the nation's defenders in the present conflict.

Assembled and carefully preserved, also, will be letters, newspaper clippings, pamphlets, and other documentary evidence dealing with such subjects as subversive activities, disposition of alien enemies, wartime production, defense measures, civilian cooperation, legislation—state, county and municipal—blackouts and similar war activities, educational activities during wartime, public utilities, transportation, labor problems and other phases of daily life. The collected materials will be housed on the various campuses of the University, wherever they will be of maximum usefulness.

This assembling of war materials was begun by the University this country, and already a mass of valuable material has been assembled and is being segregated.

It is expected that California will have one of the most complete war collections, and that this will be a permanent asset for the people, under the auspices of the State University. This fledgling material now being gathered will be of inestimable value in future years.

Poppy Day Has New Meaning for Americans Now

Poppies of patriotic remembrance will bloom in Torrance Saturday, May 23, Mrs. Alice Thompson, president of the Torrance Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, announced today.

Every man, woman and child in the city will be asked to wear a poppy on that day in honor of the men who have given their lives for America. The poppies will be distributed by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary and the coins contributed for them will be used in Legion and Auxiliary work for the war disabled, their families and the families of the dead.

The poppies which will be distributed here have been made by disabled veterans at Sawtelle. Making the little red flowers has given many veterans employment during the winter and spring months. The work is limited to men receiving little or no government compensation and those with families to support.

Symbol of Patriotism
 Contributions received for the poppies on Poppy Day are a principal source of support for the vast welfare work carried out by the Legion and Auxiliary among the disabled men and dependent families. With the new war adding to America's list of war victims, there will be greatly increased need for funds during the coming year.

Poppy Day has been observed by the Legion and Auxiliary annually for the past 20 years. With the nation again at war the poppy has new significance this year and will be worn as a symbol of patriotism by millions of Americans throughout the country.

More than 13,000,000 of the flowers have been made by disabled veterans for the Auxiliary, the largest number since the observance of Poppy Day was begun twenty years ago. Orders for poppies from Auxiliary units everywhere have been increased this year in anticipation of greatly increased demand for the flowers of patriotic remembrance.

New Wage and Hour Orders Adopted for Women Workers

California again steps to the front taking its place of leadership among the states in behalf of women and minor wage earners. On April 9, the Industrial Welfare Commission passed the order affecting manufacturing industries, the first of a series of wage orders covering the various occupations, trades and industries in which women and minors are employed in the state. The scientific statistical survey conclusively proved that the manufacturing industry has standardized its work week on a 40 hour basis, since it revealed that 92 per cent of all manufacturers adopted this standard. As a result the Commission is replacing the $16 minimum wage based on a 48 hour week with a new $18 minimum for a basic week of 40 hours. This regulation, however, does not prohibit employers from employing women for the 48 hours permitted by the statutes of California, provided the women are compensated at the rate of 45 cents an hour for hours between 40 and 48. Another innovation of the new order is the definition of the part-time worker being any person working less than the regular 40 hour week. For these shortened hours a payment of 50 cents an hour is required with the proviso that no worker may be asked to report for work on any day without being paid for a minimum of four hours, or not less than $2, although less hours may have been worked.
